TOYS.

Where toys have outlived the operations of time, they can be obtained at a price which, forty years ago, would have been deemed unreasonably reasonable. The cost of the articles vended is a small fraction of that which would have been demanded under the reign of the fourth King George. Nay, with the sole exception of the rocking horse, those very expensive toys which are now so conspicuous in the highest class of shops did not then exist. The toy that then cost six pence would now cost a pensy; but, as a general rule, there were no playthings at golden prices to tempt the fendest and most lavish grandmammas. Five shillings would have been expended in the purchase of a simerack that would now cost one; but a five shilling present, which would have been considered handsome then, would make a paltry figure now. In the Georgian era, we children were easily satisfied, and that brings me back to the toys that are either lost atterly, or are sunk into a low social stratam, whence they are not to be recevered.

I clearly recollect that I had a great admiration for a plaything which was called sometimes Jacob's ledder, sometimes Aaron's bells. It consisted of six obleng pieces of wood, adorned with pieteres on both sides, and so connected with tapes that when the top piece, which was held in the hand, was turned down, all the ethers would turn down likewise by an apparently spontaneous movement, causing a new series of pietures to be presented to the eye, which was kighly gratified by the change, as were also the ears by the clattering of the wooden tablets and the tinkling of some little belle with which they were decorated. The last time I saw Jasob's ladder was many years age. A very radely made specimen of the artiele, without any bells, was corried about the streets by an itinerant vender, at an absurd

OW Pries.

By the way, the itinerant toymen seem a!ways to have dealt in a class of ware different from that sold in shops. Early in this century a Chinaman who sold a amall drum, which, with peasincide, enswered the purpose of a with personal series, enswered the purpose of a Court of Fairfax county, pronounced at its Norrestle, and a fish suspended at the end of a vember term, 1870, in the chancery suit of Luline, was as well known a figure as the old cretia Coxen, guardian, vs. Clara Coxen et al., line, was as well known a figure as the old Tark who sold rhubarb in Cheap side. There the undersigned, commissioner appointed by Turk who sold rhebarh in Cheap side. There was sucher drum which was hung from a stick by a piece of horsehair, and when this was whirled round a rattling sound was produced, not by the drum itself, which was merely a weight, but by the friction of the horsehair against the stick. A modern and horsehair against the stick. A modern and wery attractive street toy was an ingenious was produced. The stick is in Fairfax county, Va., near Padgett's Toll Gate, and which is particularly described in a deed from George H. Padgett and wife to James Coxen, dated January 1st, 1861, and recorded mechine, the mere movement of which caused a large fock of elay birds to flutter down a number of wires. Ton years have not elapsed rines this ingenious toy was at the height of im popularity, but we do not often see it

The flat wooden make, with joints of catgut, which, beld by the tip of the tail, waves backward and forward, to the terror of timid urchins, has still its place in some toy-shops; so, also. has the tood, whese tail, turned round, is fast ened under the throat with cobbler's wax, and who leaps when the wax becomes less adbesive; though this rade meds of producing spontaneous motion is driven into the shade by the more perfect clockwork. But a snake made of a single spiral shaving of horn, with a solid head of the same material, which was capable of being extended to a considerable length, and which, when pressed together, was packed in a small cylindrical box, bas fled beyond the limits of my observation. A fault in this mimic reptile was the ridiculously extreme delicacy of its constitution. The vertebral column, of which alone its body was composed, was always getting some unfortunate twist, and an attempt to repair the misfortune was generally followed by a very compound fracture. Equally fragile were those little hollow waxdolls. which are now furnished by shops of the humblest kind, where the bottle which contains them is ranged with other bottles, soantily stocked with suger plums, brandy balls, and other old-feshioned deinties. - All the Year

THE COMANCHES." The publishers will shortly issue the hist X., familiarly known as "White's" Batalion, from its commander, Col. Elijah V. White. It is a work of ever 300 pages, and contains the history of this famous command during all the period of its existence, from the formation of its first company in 1861, to the surrender of

The history of the batalion as partizan rangers on the Potomac border, and along the army lines of Banks, Pope, McClellan and other Federal commanders, together with the experience of its men as scouts, guides and couriers for Generals Jackson and Ewell is given, and the MS. is highly endorsed by the officers of the Battalion who have examined it. This distressing Affection—which renders life miserable and marriage impossible—is the penalty paid by the victims of improper indulgencies. Young persons are too apt to commit excesses from not being aware of the dread-ful consequences that may ensue. Now, who that understands the subject will pretend to deny that the natural powers are lost sooner by those falling into improper habits than by the prudent? Besides being deprived of the pleasure of healthy offspring, the most serious and destructive symptoms of both body and and destructive symptoms of both body and mind arise. The system becomes deranged, the Physical and Mental Functions weakened.— Loss of Procreative Power, Nervous Irritability Dyspepsia, Palpitation of the Heart, Indigestion. JOHNSTON Member of the Royal College of Surgeo London, Graduate of one of the most eminent Colleges in the United States, and the greater part of whose life has been spent in the hospitals of London, Paris, Philadelphia and elsewhere, has effected some of the most astonishing cures that were ever known; many troubled with ringing in the head and ears when esteep, great nervousness, being slarmed at sudden sounds, sometimes with derangement of mind, were cured immediately. TAKE PARTICULAR NOTICE. Dr. J. addresses all those who have injured themselves by improper indulgence and solitary habits, which ruin both body and mind, unfitting them for either busines, study, society or These are some of the sad and melancholy effects produced by the early habits of youth, viz: Weaknese of the Back and Limbs, Pains in the Head, Dimness of Sight, Loss of Muscular Power, Palpitation of the Heart, Dyspep-

Loss of memory, Confusion of Ideas, Depression of Spirits, Evil Forebodings, Aversion to Society, Solf Distrust, Love of Solitude, Timidity, &c., are some of the evils produced. Thousands of persons of all ages can now judge what is the cause of their declining health, losing their vigor, becoming weak, pale, nervous and emaciated, having a singular appearance about the eyes, cough and symptoms

Indeed, without these the jour-ney through life becomes a weary pilgrimage. the prospect hourly darkens to the view, the mind becomes shadowed with despair, and filled with the melancholy reflection that the happiness of another is blighted with our own. DISEASE OF IMPRUDENCE.

When the misguided and imprudent votary of pleasure finds that he has imbibed the seeds of this painful disease, it too often happens that an ill-timed sense of shame or dread of discovery deters him from applying to those who, from education and respectability, can alone befriend him, delaying til the constitutional symptoms of this horrid disease make their appearance, such as ulcerated sore throat diseased nose, nocturnal pains in the head and limbs, dimness of sight, deafness, nodes or the shin bones and arms, blotches on the head, face and extremities, progressing with frightful rapidity, till at last the palate of the mouth or the bones of the nose fall in, and the victim of this awful disease becomes a horrid object of commiseration till death puts a period to his dreadful suffering, by sending him to that undiscovered country "from whence no traveller roturns." ler returns."

It is a melancholy fact that thousands DIE victims to this terrible disease, through falling into the hands of ignorant or unskiful PRE-TENDERS, who, by the use of that deadly Poison, Mercury, &c., destroy the constitution, and incomplined curing, keep the unhappy sufand incapable of curing, keep the unhappy sufferer month after month taking their noxious or injurious compounds, and instead of being restored to a renewal of Life, Vigor and Happiness, in despair leave him with ruined Health
